

HOME SCAVENGER HUNT

The HOUSING. SUPPORT. HOPE Campaign was created by families for families. Use this worksheet to help the children in your life take stock of all the things you have to be grateful for at home. Start a conversation about how we can all do our part to end family homelessness. Together, we can make San Francisco a better, fairer place for everyone.

Last year, Compass provided face-to-face, hands-on services to 6,500 parents and children who are homeless or at risk of homelessness and invested more than $200,000 in eviction prevention for 71 families.

In 2020, Compass provided 626 families with $450 in gift cards to help them with essential basic needs like toilet paper, diapers, and cleaning supplies.

At the height of the pandemic, Compass helped place 46 unsheltered families, including several expectant mothers, in hotel rooms.

In 2020, in addition to what was donated, Compass spent more than $26,000 on diapers alone.

Compass is currently providing 40 children with one-on-one tutors to help them through distance learning.

Compass Behavioral Health Services is providing therapy to 232 families right now, that's twice as many as this time last year.

During the COVID crisis, Compass spending on groceries increased from $800 a month to $20,000 per month to meet the growing need.

Last holiday season, Compass provided 546 families with new toys, clothing, and other gifts through our Adopt-a-Family program.
